Editorial  Metric versus English Units .................................................. 195

Articles  Introducing Modern Medicine in a Navajo Community: W. Mc Dermott et al. ........ 197
          Physicians and anthropologists are cooperating in this study of changing patterns of culture and disease. The first of two parts,

          General Characteristics of Vavilov-Cherenkov Radiation: I. E. Tamm .................... 200
          The theory of radiation from systems moving with superlight velocities has uses in plasma physics.

Science in the News  Soviet Bloc and West Accept Plan for Space Research; Societies Sponsor Visiting Foreign Scientist Programs .................................................. 210

Book Reviews  Science Study Series, reviewed by H. Laster; other reviews ........................................ 219

Reports  Geomagnetic Rotational Retardation of Satellite 1959a1 (Vanguard II):
          R. H. Wilson, Jr. .............................................................................. 222

          Potential Genetic Variability of Wild Pairs of Drosophila melanogaster:
          R. Milkm en .......................................................... 222

          Relationship of Stress-Induced Histidine Decarboxylase to Circulatory Homeostasis and Shock: R. W. Schayer ......................... 222

          Critical Periods for the Effects of Infantile Experience on Adult Learning:
          V. H. Denenberg and R. W. Bell ..................................................................... 222

Departments  Letters from A. M. Brues, H. Auerbach, L. D. Marinelli, J. Verduin, J. G. Kaplan; W. van der Bruggen; J. Church, H. Leibowitz, T. Hartman; J. P. Scott .......... 230

          The British Association; Forthcoming Events; New Products ......................... 244

Cover  A Navajo weaver spins wool for a rug by a method employed for many centuries. Rug weaving continues to be important in the economy of the Manyfarms-Rough Rock area. See page 197. [Milton Snow, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Window Rock, Ariz.]