The St. Louis program comprised four regular sessions, in addition to that of the delivery of the retiring vice-president’s address by Mr. H. T. Newcomb, on ‘Some Recent Phases of the Labor Problem’ (SCIENCE, January 8, 1904). This address was made the basis of discussion at the first regular session, which was occupied with papers and discussions on the labor problem generally. The second session, on economic aspects of the new agriculture, was held jointly with the Society for the Promotion of Agricultural Science. The third session dealt with the status of instruction in social and economic science in schools, colleges and universities; and the fourth included papers on commerce, finance and government. All the sessions were presided over by Hon. Simeon E. Baldwin, of the Yale Law School, New Haven, Conn. The other officers were as follows:
