COVER

The deployment of Pershing II and cruise missiles in Europe has created some painful and potentially lasting military and political problems for the United States and its Western allies (see page 371). This photo shows a platoon of three Pershing II missiles erected for a test at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, in mid-1983. The missiles declared operational on 31 December 1983, in Mutlangen, West Germany, are identical except that they lack the red and yellow stripes. [Martin Marietta Aerospace]
