R&D in FY 1986: Outlook for the Next Four Years

Tenth Annual AAAS Colloquium on R&D Policy

3 & 4 April 1985
Capital Hilton • Washington, D.C.

- Discussion will be based on AAAS Report X: Research and Development, FY 1986, a timely and comprehensive analysis of the proposals for R&D in the FY 1986 budget, prepared by AAAS and a group of its affiliated scientific, engineering, and higher education associations. Registrants will also receive Proceedings following the Colloquium and Congressional Action on R&D in the FY 1986 Budget in the fall.

- Trends and prospects for R&D in defense, energy, health, space, and other areas will be explored by leaders from industry, universities, agencies of the federal government, Congress, the White House, and the scientific and engineering communities.

- Perspectives will be provided on topics such as deficits and the overall budget climate, R&D and industrial innovation, government organization for science and technology, public and private roles in research, and strategies for government-industry-university cooperation.

SCIENCE
News Department Reprint Series
European Missile Deployment

No defense decision has so strained the Western alliance and awakened the average citizen to the risks of nuclear destruction as the decision made by NATO in 1979 to install new nuclear missiles in Western Europe. Although the initial phase of the deployment has been successfully carried out, it has left in its wake an unforeseen series of painful and potentially lasting military and political consequences.

In a compelling 4-part series in Science, R. Jeffrey Smith describes the genesis of the deployment decision, the course of arms negotiations that followed, and the choices that lie ahead for NATO—choices that may influence the direction of future U.S. military expenditures as well as the potential risk of a superpower conflict. This reprint collection is available now.

Single copies $2.00. Twenty or more $1.00 each. Orders must be prepaid.
