The American Association for the Advancement of Science was founded in 1848 and incorporated in 1874. Its objects are to further the work of scientists, to facilitate cooperation among them, to foster scientific freedom and responsibility, to improve the effectiveness of science in the promotion of human welfare, and to increase public understanding and appreciation of the importance and promise of the methods of science in human progress.
A video computer-aided plot (Nikon/Joyce-Loebl Magiscan) made over an enhanced video image of a brain section containing retrogradely labeled neurons (white squares) in the rostral medulla after an injection of wheat germ agglutinin-conjugated horseradish peroxidase into the locus coeruleus. Low-(upper) and high-power (lower) views of the same section are given for orientation. See page 734. [M. Shiplew, University of Cincinnati Medical College, Cincinnati, OH 45267; and G.
