The American Association for the Advancement of Science was founded in 1848 and incorporated in 1874. Its objectives are to further the work of scientists, to facilitate cooperation among them, to foster scientific freedom and responsibility, to improve the effectiveness of science in the promotion of human welfare, to advance education in science, and to increase public understanding and appreciation of the importance and promise of the methods of science in human progress.
A view of the localized phytoalexin response of a single epidermal cell of Sorghum bicolor to the phytopathogen Colletotrichum graminicola. The response is characterized by the accumulation of phytoalexins in cytoplasmic inclusions that enlarge as they move toward the fungal infection structure, releasing their contents and restricting the growth of the pathogen.
