Its objectives are to further the work of scientists, to facilitate cooperation among them, to foster scientific freedom and responsibility, to improve the effectiveness of science in the promotion of human welfare, to advance education in science, and to increase public understanding and appreciation of the importance and promise of the methods of science in human progress.
COVER  Radiograph of the core of the Milky Way galaxy, ten light-years in extent, showing a new source—the Galactic Center Transient—within four light-years of the center (lower left). The radio emission from this source is thought to be a result of relativistic electrons spiraling in an intense magnetic field, which are probably from a system in which a neutron star or a black hole accretes material from its companion.
