This issue of Science examines how researchers overcome the challenges they meet along their career paths. Though presented as a game, meeting these challenges—going from a postdoctoral to a permanent position, for example, or running a productive laboratory—is a serious measure of success in the scientific life. See the News section, “Science Careers: Playing to Win,” beginning on page 1905. [Illustration: Linda C. Owens]

AAAS Board of Directors

Eloise E. Clark Relining President, Chairman
Francisco J. Ayala President
William R. Colwell President-elect
Ann C. Roosevelt

AAAS is a not-for-profit educational and scientific society. Its mission is the advancement of science and the public interest in the findings of science. AAAS members are elected by the Board of Directors to serve terms of no more than four years. The Board meets at least four times a year. The officers of AAAS are elected annually by the Board of Directors. The president and president-elect are elected to serve successive one-year terms. The treasurer is elected to a three-year term. The AAAS headquarters is located at 1515 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20005. Telephone: 202/326-6400. Fax: 202/326-6563. AAAS is incorporated in the District of Columbia under its charter, 1902. Copyright © 2018 by AAAS. All rights reserved. Reproduction in any form, including electronic storage, is prohibited without prior written permission.
