Friday, January 31, 1896.

CONTENTS:
The Smithsonian Institution: ........................................... 145
Memorial Tribute to Professor Thomas H. Huxley:
    Henry F. Osborn ................................................. 147
On the Classification of Museums: G. Brown Goode. ................. 154
The X-Rays: Hugo Münsterberg ........................................ 161
Scientific Notes and News:—
    Professor Röntgen's Discovery. Physics: W. H.
    Astronomy: H. J. General ...................................... 163
University and Educational News ..................................... 167
Discussion and Correspondence:—
    The Metric System: J. K. Rees. Improved
    Blackboard: Ben. K. Emerson .................................. 167
Scientific Literature:—
    Turr's Elementary Physical Geography: I. C.
    Russell. Jackson's The Great Frozen Land:
    Angelo Heilprin. Frie's Complete Geography:
    T. W. Harris. Hopkins' Religions of India:
    Phillips' Teaching of the Vedas: D. G. Brinton. 168
Scientific Journals:—
    The American Journal of Science; Astrophysical
    Journal; The Physical Review ................................ 174
Societies and Academies:—
    Joint Commission of the Scientific Societies of Samuel Henshaw. Geological Conference of Harvard University: T. A. Jaggar, Jr.
New Books. .................................................................... 180

MSS. intended for publication and books etc., intended for review should be sent to the responsible editor, Prof. J. McKeen Cattell, Garrison-on-Hudson, N. Y.

THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION.

The annual meeting of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution was held Wednesday, January 22d, at 10 o'clock.

The death of Doctor Henry Coppee, President of Lehigh University, long a member of the Board, was announced and appropriate resolutions adopted.

An Executive Committee was appointed as follows: Hon. John B. Henderson, Chairman; Hon. William L. Wilson and Hon. Gardiner G. Hubbard.

Secretary Langley presented his annual report, in which the chief events of importance during the past year were discussed. Allusion was made to the conferring of the Hodgkins Fund prize of $10,000, and to the transmission of the amount of the award through the American embassy in London to Lord Rayleigh and Professor Ramsay; also to the fact that a similar prize for the same discovery has recently been given to the same persons by the Institute of France. The prize of $1,000 was given to M. de Va-