ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Amherst College
Biochemistry or Bio-Organic Chemistry

The Amherst College Department of Chemistry (website: <https://cms.amherst.edu/academiclife/departments/chemistry>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professorship in biochemistry or bio-organic chemistry beginning in July 2009. The position requires a Ph.D. and calls for teaching chemistry at the introductory and advanced undergraduate levels. Opportunities for teaching in interdisciplinary courses and programs are also available. The successful candidate will be expected to establish a vigorous research program in which undergraduates can substantively participate. The research program can span the boundaries between biochemistry and other sciences.

Applicants should submit curriculum vitae, undergraduate and graduate transcripts, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a detailed description of their research plans, and should arrange for the forwarding of three letters of reference, all to: Prof. Mark D. Marshall, Chair, Department of Chemistry, Amherst College, P.O. Box 5000, Amherst, MA 01002-5000. Review of materials will begin October 13, 2008, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college for men and women, with 1,600 students and 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College has taken a leadership role among highly selective liberal arts colleges and universities in successfully diversifying the racial, socioeconomic, and geographic profile of its student body. The College now aims to enrich the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff to ensure that full participation and inclusion become desired norms across the culture of the Institution. Amherst aspires to become a learning community in which everyone, not just those individuals whom we identify with minority cultures or perspectives, is informed about and responsive to all aspects of diversity. The administration, faculty, and student body are committed to attracting qualified candidates from groups currently underrepresented on our campus. Amherst College is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer and encourages women, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply.

MOLECULAR NEUROBIOLOGIST

The Department of Biology and the Neuroscience Program at Amherst College invite applications for a tenure-track position at the ASSISTANT PROFESSOR level in molecular neurobiology. The research program of the successful candidate will be one that can involve undergraduate biology and neuroscience majors. Teaching duties include development of a laboratory course in molecular neurobiology, rotation in team-taught introductory biology and neuroscience courses, and teaching other courses in the candidate's area. A completed Ph.D. is required, and postdoctoral experience is expected. Send curriculum vitae and statements of research and teaching interests to: Neurobiology Search Committee, Department of Biology, Amherst College, P.O. Box 5000, Amherst, MA 01002-5000. Electronic submissions will not be accepted. Have three letters of recommendation sent separately. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2008, and continue until the position has been filled.
