IN BRIEF

Roundup of the week's news

IN DEPTH

U.S. FUSION EFFORT MELTS DOWN
Scientific community battles with its federal office
By A. Cho

SCIENCE AGENCIES MAKE GAINS DESPITE TIGHT U.S. BUDGET
NASA, NSF among 2015 winners in difficult year
By J. Mervis and D. Malakoff

THE THOROUGHLY BRED HORSE
Genomes from ancient horses show the genetic changes wrought by domestication—and their costs
By A. Gibbons

COSTA RICA'S BIODIVERSITY INSTITUTE FACES FINANCIAL CRISIS
New government rethinks plans to take over INBio's money-losing theme park
By L. Wade

AMBITIOUS CHILDREN'S STUDY MEETS DISAPPOINTING END
After 14 years and $1.2 billion spent, design and management troubles topple National Children's Study
By J. Kaiser

CONTENTS