

The Significance of the Physical Constitution in Mental Disease

By F. I. WERTHEIMER and FLORENCE E. HESKETH,
Johns Hopkins Hospital and Medical School.

Of interest to neurologists, psychiatrists, medical men, anthropologists and eugenicists.

"Constitutes a remarkably complete study in medical anthropometry. The authors have apparently carried out their investigations painstakingly and have stated their conclusions conservatively."

Muscular Contraction and the Reflex Control of Movement

By J. F. FULTON, B.Sc. (Harvard); M.A.,
Ph.D. (Oxon).

For more than a decade such a book as this has been needed. It presents a wealth of material valuable to biologists, physiologists, anatomists and psychologists, elsewhere unavailable.

It is based on the author's own researches. In addition to throwing light on complicated and obscure events in brain and spinal cord, it summarizes recent developments in neurophysiology.

Two hundred and fifteen illustrations and the bibliography of 1066 references are valuable adjuncts.

Enzymes

Description, distribution, principles, methods of preparation, applications.

By S. A. WAKSMAN, Ph.D., New Jersey Experiment Station, and W. C. DAVISON, M.D.,
Johns Hopkins Hospital.

One of the most detailed and comprehensive studies of enzymes so far attempted.

Discusses enzymes of the human and animal body, plants, seeds, and microorganisms. Outlines chemical and physical properties governing activity and secretion; discusses the role of enzymes in biological processes; compiles practical applications.

Every scientific worker will find this book worth-while, for it is likely to serve as the authentic text on enzymes for years to come.

Johns Hopkins University SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

The School of Medicine is an Integral Part of the University and is in the Closest Affiliation with the Johns Hopkins Hospital.

ADMISSION

Candidates for admission must be graduates of approved colleges or scientific schools with at least two years' instruction (including laboratory work) in chemistry, and one year each in physics and biology, together with evidence of a reading knowledge of French and German.

Each class is limited to a maximum of 75 students, men and women being admitted on the same terms. Applications may be sent any time during the academic year but not later than June 15th.

If vacancies occur, students from other institutions desiring advanced standing may be admitted to the second or third year provided they fulfill our requirements and present exceptional qualifications.

INSTRUCTION

The academic year begins the Tuesday nearest October 1, and closes the second Tuesday in June. The course of instruction occupies four years and especial emphasis is laid upon practical work in the laboratories, in the wards of the Hospital and in the dispensary.

TUITION

The charge for tuition is $400 per annum, payable in three installments. There are no extra fees except for certain expensive supplies, and laboratory breakage.

Inquiries should be addressed to the Executive Secretary of the School of Medicine, Johns Hopkins University, Washington and Monument Streets, Baltimore, Maryland.

Good Laboratory Furniture can only be made properly in a Factory where -

- 1 Trained artisans are employed
- 2 A complete Engineering Department is available
- 3 A complete Electrical Department is maintained
- 4 A complete Plumbing Department is maintained

These four factory qualifications are extremely important and should be given primary consideration by everyone contemplating an investment in Laboratory Furniture.

School Officials interested in the installation of Laboratory Furniture for the teaching of Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Agriculture, Electricity, Domestic Science, Manual Training, etc., should write for a copy of the very complete Kewaunee Book. It will be sent free.
