— E. & F. N. Spon of this city have issued their catalogue for 1891, of books relating to civil and mechanical engineering, arts, trades, and manufactures. It contains 118 pages, and is illustrated.

— Every person interested in the higher education would be interested in the article on "The Growth of New England Colleges," by Professor Arthur M. Coosey of Tufts College, which appears in the Educational Review for March. It appears to revolutionize the discussion regarding the shortening of the college course, for it contradicts by statistics one basis of the affirmative argument; viz., that college attendance in New England has not kept pace with population. Other articles are one on "The Primary School in the Middle Ages," by Brother Azarias of De Lasalle Institute; the concluding part of "The Herbartian System of Pedagogies," by Professor Charles De Garmo; one embodying the latest philosophical generalizations regarding "The Psychological Study of Children," by Professor Joseph Jastrow; and discussions of "The Pronunciation of Greek," by G. C. Sawyer; "The Results of the Prussian Commission on School Reform," by Henry Wood; and "Imagination in Mathematics," by Larkin Dunton.

— The principal topics discussed in Babyhood for March are "Size and Weight of Infants" (illustrated); "The Ideal Nursery;" "Intestinal Worms," a description of the symptoms which characterize their presence, and the treatment; and "Defects that can be Remedied or Prevented.

NOTICES.

Facts are stubborn things, as many a guilty wretch could testify who has tried to escape the meshes of accumulating evidence. So are they stubborn when they point conclusively to the superiority of a medical preparation. This is the office they perform for Scott's Emulsion, in so striking a manner that all ought to be convinced. Case after case might be cited of the early stages of consumption, bronchitis (both acute and chronic), and, in fact, all diseases of the respiratory organs, where Scott's Emulsion has effected a cure. Besides, in many cases, it has lessened the severity of the disease known as "in grippe." If you are subject to sudden colds you have this valuable medicine on hand, for it is unwise to allow the cold to develop into something worse when the remedy may be so easily obtained. All families should keep it on hand.

FOSSIL RESINS.

By CLARENCE LOWN and HENRY BOOTH.

This book is the result of an attempt to collect the scattered notices of fossil resins, exclusive of those on amber. The work is of interest also on account of descriptions given of the insects embedded in those long-preserved exudations from early vegetation.
