“Odd” Apparatus.

In preparing for “stock taking” we find some 200 pieces of odd or shopworn physical instruments that must be sold promptly to make room for new goods.

Price being a secondary consideration, we have placed these instruments at very low figures; often a mere fraction of first cost; and solicit immediate correspondence with all who can use such apparatus.

We are sincere in believing this offer unusually important, and upon request will mail to any address descriptive circular No. 480, which gives full particulars.

FOSSIL RESINS.

This book is the result of an attempt to collect the scattered notices of fossil resins, exclusive of those on amber. The work is of interest also on account of descriptions given of the insects found embedded in these long-preserved exudations from early vegetation.

Littell’s Living Age, THE ONLY WEEKLY ECLECTIC. 1844.

“The Oldest and the Best.” It selects from the whole wide field of EUROPEAN PERIODICAL LITERATURE the best articles.

THE ABLEST LIVING WRITERS in every department of Literature, Science, Politics and Art.

OPINIONS.

Only the best has been filed its pages; the best thought rendered in the purest English. Nothing poor or unworthy has ever appeared in the columns of THE LIVING AGE.—The Prentice-ter, Phila.

“Considering its size, it is the cheapest of literary periodicals, and no collection of magazine literature is complete without this foremost of eclectics.”—Educational Courant, Louisville, Ky.

“It is one of the few periodicals which seem indispensable. It contains nearly all the good literature of the time.”—The Churchman, New York.

“The fields of fiction, biography, travel, science, poetry, criticism, and social and religious discussion all come within its domain.”—Boston Commercial Advertiser.

Published Weekly at $80 a year, free of postage.

Club Rates.—For $10.15 THE LIVING AGE and SCIENCE will be sent for a year, postpaid.

Rates for clubbing THE LIVING AGE with other periodicals will be sent on application.
