Tassel-eared squirrel (Sciurus aberti) in ponderosa pine tree. Ponderosa pine twigs are used as a food source by these squirrels, but only Ponderosa pines containing smaller amounts of monoterpenes qualify as food source trees. See page 1273. [R. C. Farentinos, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, Boulder, Colorado 80303]

American Association for the Advancement of Science was founded in 1848 and incorporated in 1874. Its objects to further the work of scientists, to facilitate cooperation among them, to foster scientific freedom and responsibility, improve the effectiveness of science in the promotion of human welfare, and to increase public understanding and recognition of the importance and promise of the methods of science in human progress.
