These new books include, respectively, expert evaluations of more than 500 a/v items and more than 1,000 books in the sciences for children ages 5-12. The books and films were picked from thousands reviewed in AAAS's Science Books & Films magazine. They have been recommended by scientists in the appropriate fields who have reviewed them for their accuracy, completeness, clarity, and appropriateness for various audiences. Listings are by subject categories and include all the information you will need for ordering. Both books have multiple indexes, making them easy to use.
