POSITIONS OPEN

LECTURER IN BIOLOGY

A full-time, nontenure-track Lecturer position in biology is available beginning September 2010, with renewal available contingent on successful review.

Teaching responsibilities will include a cell biology course, a projects-based cell biology laboratory course, participation in a team-taught introductory biology course, and administrative oversight of independent research for undergraduates. Commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching is required, and the successful candidate will demonstrate experience or interest in pedagogical innovations to enhance retention of students in introductory level courses. Experience with computer-based assessment is desirable, as is interest in pursuing funding opportunities for innovative teaching programs.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in the life sciences. Salary commensurate with experience.

To apply: Applicants should submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement of teaching philosophy and experience and three letters of recommendation should be sent to:

Search Committee Chair
c/o Ms. Karin Murphy
Department of Biology
Tufts University
163 Packard Avenue
Medford, MA 02155

E-mail: karin.murphy@tufts.edu

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Tufts University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We are committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

CALL FOR PAPERS 10th International Symposium on Ginseng September 13-16, 2010 Seoul, Korea

The symposium will continue the tradition of the previous symposia in our series by bringing together worldwide famous scientists with interests in all aspects of ginseng on chemistry, clinical studies, pharmacology, physiology, cultivation, ginseng products, and others. The organizing committee will support a roundtrip ticket and staying expenses (accommodation and meals) for the selected oral presenters and staying expenses plus US$100 per each poster for the selected poster presenters.

Deadlines for abstract submission are February 26, 2010, for the oral and April 10, 2010, for the poster presenter.

For more details, please visit our website: <http://www.ginsengsociety.org> and refer to the second circular of International Symposium. The Korean Society of Ginseng.

FACULTY POSITION IN COMPARATIVE MEDICINE

Department of Comparative Medicine Stanford University School of Medicine

The Department of Comparative Medicine seeks to fill two faculty positions for veterinary clinicians at the ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR level in the Stanford School of Medicine's Medical Center Line. The major criteria for a faculty appointment in the Medical Center Line include excellence in clinical care, teaching, and scholarly activity that advances human or veterinary medicine. Candidates must have a D.V.M. or V.M.D. from an American Veterinary Medical Association-accredited institution. Veterinary specialty Board certification or eligibility is required (American College of Laboratory Animal Medicine, American College of Veterinary Surgeons, American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine, American College of Veterinary Pathologists, or other), and preference will be given to candidates with an advanced degree (Ph.D., M.P.H., or other). Applicants should demonstrate interest in independent and collaborative research evidenced by publications in peer-reviewed journals. Experience in translational medicine is highly desirable.

The Department of Comparative Medicine is a clinical department within the School of Medicine. In addition to its academic functions, it also provides the clinical care and management for a large, modern, Association for Assessment and Accreditation of Laboratory Animal Care-accredited animal program which has an ACLAM-recognized residency training program.

Interested candidates should send a letter containing a description of their career goals and research interests, their curriculum vitae, and names and addresses of five references to: Dr. Sherril Green, Professor and Chair, Department of Comparative Medicine, Stanford Medical Center, 300 Pasteur Drive, Edwards Building R321, Stanford, CA 94305-5342. Applications will be reviewed upon receipt and searches will be continued until all positions have been filled.

Stanford University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. It welcomes nominations of and applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical missions.

FACULTY SEARCH Pratt School of Engineering Duke University

Regional and Global Atmospheric Modeling of the Water Cycle

The Department of Civil and Environmental Engineering in the Pratt School of Engineering at Duke University invites applications for a faculty position at the ASSOCIATE or FULL PROFESSORSHIP rank from candidates working on large-scale atmospheric modeling in connection with the variability in the hydrological cycle and its implications for water resources. The successful candidate is expected to serve as an integrator across Duke's broader efforts in water resources, hydrology, climate, and related interdisciplinary areas. Opportunities to collaborate in cross-disciplinary initiatives with the Center on Global Change, the Nicholas Institute on Environmental Policy Solutions, and the Nicholas School of the Environment are available.

Qualified candidates must have a Ph.D. in engineering or related physical sciences.

Letters of application (including names of at least three potential references, curriculum vitae, description of research and teaching interests as a single PDF file) should be submitted electronically to e-mail: cee-faculty-search@duke.edu. The application review process will commence on February 20, 2010, and will continue until the position is filled.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action Equal Opportunity Employer that is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty.
