ELSS PLANT SCIENCE SUBSTANTIVE EDITING CHALLENGE

Skillful, freelance manuscript editors with expertise in plant science are sought by ELSS, Inc., a provider of quality substantive editing for over 16 years. Our clients are primarily Japanese researchers in all fields of scientific research. The Challenge is an opportunity to earn 50,000 Japanese yen in bonuses to each of up to five of the best-qualified plant science editors who submit applications before 31 December 2011. For more details, please see website: http://elss.co.jp/en.html.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR of Bioinformatics the School of Life Sciences at the Rochester Institute of Technology website: http://rit.edu/cos/lifesciences/ invites applications for a tenure-track position beginning August 2012. Applicants shall have a Ph.D. in Biology or a related field; preference will be given to applicants with postdoctoral experience.

The successful candidate will teach courses at the undergraduate and graduate level courses within the Bioinformatics program and the School of Life Sciences, and develop electives in his or her area of expertise. The candidate will be expected to develop an externally funded research program that involves undergraduate and graduate students and results in peer-reviewed publications.

Applicants for this position should apply online at website: https://mycareer.rit.edu. Search by IRC53418. Please upload your letter of interest, curriculum vitae, a statement of research plans and goals, a statement of teaching philosophy that includes teaching experience and course preferences, and four letters of reference. For full consideration, please submit your materials by 6 January 2012. Applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

The Rochester Institute of Technology is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified individuals with the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the university's continuing commitment to its core values, honor code, and diversity statement are encouraged to apply.

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF BEIRUT The Department of Biology

The Biology Department at the American University of Beirut is seeking to fill three ASSISTANT PROFESSORSHIPS in the areas of (1) plant biology with special interest in plant ecology or plant cell and molecular biology; (2) population genetics with special interest in evolution or bioinformatics; (3) microbiology with special interest in environmental microbiology or molecular microbiology. Appointments are to begin September 15, 2012. Appointments at higher rank will be considered. Applications will be accepted until January 15, 2012.

FACULTY POSITIONS in Neuroscience Michigan State University

The interdisciplinary Neuroscience Program at Michigan State University (MSU) website: http://neuroscience.msu.edu/ in collaboration with the departments of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Microbiology and Molecular Genetics, Physiology, Pharmacology and Toxicology and Zoology is seeking applications for two tenure-track ASSISTANT PROFESSOR faculty positions. All areas of neuroscience will be considered but we are particularly interested in candidates who use cellular and molecular approaches to studies of neural plasticity and development, learning and memory, motivation and reward, or metabolic regulation or who add to our existing strengths in autonomic neuroscience, neurodegeneration, and behavioral neuroendocrinology. The applicant should hold a Ph.D./M.D. degree or equivalent in a neuroscience-related field, and have productive research experience. These positions are part of an expansion of the Neuroscience Program that involves development of an undergraduate major in Neuroscience, which includes two additional and complementary positions in the Department of Psychology. Successful applicants will be jointly appointed in the Neuroscience Program and one of the collaborating departments. Successful applicants will also be expected to establish a productive, extramurally funded research program and contribute to the teaching and service missions of the Neuroscience Program and the home department. There is excellent support for research collaborations across departments. A competitive startup and compensation package will be offered according to the applicant's experience and qualifications. To ensure full consideration, online applications (#5470) including a letter of interest with a statement of commitment to diversity, curriculum vitae, a summary of interests and plans, funding history and teaching philosophy should be submitted by December 15, 2011 but the positions will remain open until filled. Applicants should also arrange to have three letters of recommendation sent as an e-mail attachment to Shari Stockmeyer (e-mail: stockmey@msu.edu) in the Neuroscience Program Office. Further information can be obtained from: Dr. James J. Galligan, Neuroscience Program Director, Giltner Hall Room 108 Michigan State University East Lansing, MI 48824 e-mail: galliga1@msu.edu; telephone: 517-353-4776.

MSU is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. MSU is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.
