DEPARTMENT OF PHARMACOLOGY AND PHYSIOLOGY CHAIR

DEPARTMENT CHAIR
Pharmacological and Physiological Science

Saint Louis University, a Catholic Jesuit institution dedicated to education, research, service and health care, has started a national search for the next William Beaumont Professor and Chair of the Department of Pharmacological and Physiological Science. The department encompasses multidisciplinary research particularly strong in the cardiovascular, endocrine and neuroscience areas and has an outstanding record in graduate education supported in part by an NIH-T32 training grant currently in its 30th year. The department seeks an individual with the vision and scientific stature to build and maintain robust basic and translational research programs, and continue the strong commitment to graduate and medical education. The successful applicant will have a Ph.D. and/or M.D. degree, a strong record of academic achievement, a solid level of extramural research funding and experience in both graduate student and medical student education. Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae and a description of their leadership vision to Enrico Di Cera, M.D., Chair of the Search Committee (enrico.dicera@health.slu.edu).

Saint Louis University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for the position applied for without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, military/veteran status, gender identity, or other non-merit factors. We welcome and encourage applications from minorities, women, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities (including disabled veterans). If accommodations are needed for completing the application and/or with the interviewing process, please contact Human Resources at 314-977-5847.
