

Nanjing Forestry University (NFU) was founded in 1902 with the merger of the Forest Departments of Central University and of Jinling University. Located in the east of Nanjing, at the foot of beautiful Purple Mountain and east of Xuanwu Lake, NFU is a comprehensive university administered directly by Jiangsu Provincial Department of Education together with the Central Government. NFU has now been listed as one of the nation's top universities by China's Double First-class Initiative in Universities and Disciplines and is jointly built by Ministry of Education of China and Jiangsu People's Government.

Nanjing Forestry University is seeking top scholars and talents around the world to build a better tomorrow of NFU.
