Speedy robots gather spectra for sky surveys

Telescopes retrofitted with hundreds of optical fibers dissect the light of stars and galaxies.

By D. Clery

NIH's 'precision nutrition' bet aims for individualized diets

Effort will piggyback on giant genomics and health program.

By J. Kaiser

Study shows winners, losers as desert warms

In 100-year record, small mammals burrow to beat the heat, but birds either fly away or die.

By E. Pennisi

REPORT p. 633

Science bill rankles Mexican research community

Scientists feel ignored in debate over law that would reshape governance and funding.

By I. Gutiérrez Jaber

PHOTO: JACK DAYNES

5 FEBRUARY 2021 • VOL 371 ISSUE 6529

539

SCIENCE sciencemag.org

Published by AAAS

Downloaded from http://science.sciencemag.org/ on June 30, 2021
Science 371 (6529), 545-646.