IN DEPTH
1248 Accusations of colonial science fly after eruption
Congolese volcano watchers say European data monopoly hampered Nyiragongo forecasts  By R. Pease

1249 Report traces surge in ocean plastic studies
But many studies describe the problem rather than pointing to solutions  By T. Rabesandratana

1250 Biologist blows whistle on prominent co-author
When inquiries went nowhere, Ken Thompson decided to publicly disavow his first paper  By M. Enserink

1251 Genomes offer rare glimpse of Neanderthal family groups
Low genetic diversity in males from two Siberian caves suggests females moved to their mates’ families  By A. Gibbons

1252 Decades ahead, Europe picks goals for big space missions
Themes for billion-euro Voyage 2050 missions include icy moons, exoplanets, and the early universe  By D. Clery

1253 DNA researchers question Senate bill’s security provisions
Measure aimed at stopping China from misusing human genome data could harm research efforts, groups argue  By J. Kaiser

FEATURES
1254 Marshes on the move
Coastal ecologist Matt Kirwan is optimistic that coastal wetlands can outrun rising seas. But some question that rosy picture  By G. Popkin

1255 Reimagining strategic, managed retreat for transformative climate adaptation
K. J. Mach and A. R. Siders

ON THE COVER
An abandoned mosque sits outside a sea wall in Pluit, Jakarta, Indonesia. Confronted with both sea level rise and subsidence due to groundwater extraction in this city of more than 10 million people, the government has announced plans to relocate the national capital to the island of Borneo. Research has much to offer communities around the globe that are facing displacement from climate change—but community members must be involved, their voices heard. See page 1274.

REVIEW
1294 Reframing strategic, managed retreat for transformative climate adaptation
K. J. Mach and A. R. Siders

INSIGHTS
1260 Mothers of invention
Women are more likely than men to invent for women, but obstacles limit their participation in the innovation system  By F. Murray

REPORTS
1314 Surface chemistry
Resolving multifrequent oscillations and nanoscale interfacet communication in single-particle catalysis
Y. Suchorski et al.

1318 Quantum simulation
Geometric squeezing into the lowest Landau level
R. J. Fletcher et al.

1323 Magnetism
Imaging orbital ferromagnetism in a moiré Chern insulator
C. L. Tschirhart et al.

1327 Solar cells
Lead halide-templated crystallization of methylamine-free perovskite for efficient photovoltaic modules
T. Bu et al.

1333 Optomechanics
Approaching the motional ground state of a 10-kg object
C. Whittle et al.

1336 Coronavirus
Clonal analysis of immunodominance and cross-reactivity of the CD4 T cell response to SARS-CoV-2
J. S. Low et al.

1342 Ice sheets
Transition to marine ice cliff instability controlled by ice thickness gradients and velocity
J. N. Bassis et al.
PERSPECTIVE p. 1266

1345 History of innovation
Who do we invent for? Patents by women focus more on women’s health, but few women get to invent
R. Koning et al.
PERSPECTIVE p. 1260

1349 Signal transduction
NF-κB dynamics determine the stimulus specificity of epigenomic reprogramming in macrophages
Q. J. Cheng et al.
PERSPECTIVE p. 1263
